

NO PINK TEA, SAYS GEN. JONES, SAYS SHE

"Six Day Bicycle Race," Retorts
Col. Craft, Who Gets to Baltimore Late.

ARMY WINGS ARE JOINED

Laggards Pick Up a Luncheon at Overlea and Start a New Suffrage Club.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 24.—Once more the suffrage army is a complete entity and to-night, with all quiet along the Potomac, the army sleeps under the roof of one hotel, the Stafford. But it is not a peaceful army and the quiet is only because every one is asleep.

Col. Craft, arriving late this afternoon, was quite frank in her criticism of Gen. Jones and characterized her conduct of the army as a six day bicycle race. The Colonel and eight other pilgrims were separated from the rest of the army by a series of misunderstandings yesterday morning and they spent the night, as had been planned, in Overlea, a little suburb about five miles out, while Gen. Jones led the rest of the army on a forced march of twenty-six miles into Baltimore.

Col. Craft and the second division, who are now dubbed the insurgents, marched out of Overlea at 10 this morning and going four miles out of their way to attend a luncheon given by Mrs. Donald Hooker did their five miles into town this afternoon, reaching the hotel about 10 o'clock.

"I have not spoken to the General yet," said the Colonel early this evening, "and I do not care to talk to her. I do not approve of this six day bicycle race method of rushing into Washington. I do not see the point. It means that we have to refuse all social engagements along the way at the cost of offending these hospitable Southerners who feel such slight even more keenly than we would. We could do a great deal of good to the cause by stopping along the way to attend affairs and hold meetings and I do think it is right to rush by."

Furthermore, I count myself as a member of the army. I went all the way to Albany, and I intend to reach Washington, by myself if I cannot keep up with the army. There are others who complain that the General is rushing us along too fast, and I think she ought to show us some consideration in making her plans."

Gen. Jones smilingly defends her programme by saying that this is a political movement, an effort to help enfranchise the women of America and not a pink tea affair.

If we began accepting these social invitations," she explained, "there would be no way of drawing the line. Here in Baltimore alone, without consulting us at all, these enthusiastic women have arranged a programme for us that would take a week of steady rushing to complete. The only way to do is to refuse everything if we are to follow our original purpose and get to Washington."

While Col. Craft was standing in the hotel lobby later in the evening making a statement about her feelings toward the General that lady came up and putting her arm around the General's waist told her how glad she was to see her. The Colonel replied rather stiffly, and the General soon withdrew. The Colonel may forget all about it by to-morrow morning, and then again she may not.

As a result of the split in the army yesterday to-day was a day of rest for one half of the pilgrim band, but not for the other half. The main body of the army which followed their General into Baltimore yesterday afternoon like those fortunate people who have no history, spent the entire day happily doing nothing. They strolled down to breakfast about noon and gossiped in the hotel lobby most of the afternoon leaning back in their leather chairs in the attitudes of almost Oriental negligence.

This evening they are still doing nothing and they will continue this pleasing diversion all day to-morrow with the exception of a few hours around noon when they will attend a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Jove at the Hotel Emerson.

The second corps of the army marched out of Overlea in command of Col. Ida Craft at 10 this morning, on the five mile detour to the home of Mrs. Hooker, who is president of the Just Government League.

During the luncheon a committee of ladies was authorized to have a gold medal struck off for Col. Craft. The medal will be engraved: "Presented to Col. Craft by the Suffragists of Baltimore, for her courage and devotion to our cause."

The committee, composed of Mrs. Frank J. C. Nicholson, Mrs. Donald Hooker and Mrs. Lewis H. Smith, presented the medal to-day and they will present it to the Colonel on March 3. As a result of suffrage enthusiasm during luncheon a new suffrage club was organized on the spot, the Overlea Suffrage Club.

Miss Elizabeth Freeman, driver of the little yellow wagon, tried in vain to effect a reconciliation between the General and her Colonel this morning. The Colonel was seated alone in the dining room and Miss Freeman brought the General in to her table. The three talked for a few minutes but both sides were obdurate and the General withdrew.

The question under discussion now is as to whether or not the army shall stay over in Baltimore and then proceed to Washington in order to attend the banquet of several hundred Baltimore business and advertising men to which they have been invited. The General refuses to change her plans.

Mrs. Georgia Williams of Lebanon, a member of the second corps of the suffrage army, was standing on Fifth street on the corner of St. Paul street addressing a street meeting this evening when a messenger boy rushed up to her with a telegram which read:

STOCK TAX BILL IN SENATE.

Progressive Has Bill for Judicial Decisions Recall.

ALBANY, Feb. 24.—Senator Stillwell tonight introduced the Well Assembly bill increasing the tax of stock transfer from $2 to $4 per hundred shares.

Assemblyman Michael Schaap, Progressive of New York, introduced a resolution giving it as the sense of the New York State Legislature that Presidents of the United States should be limited to one term of six years.

Gov. Sulzer sent to the Senate the nominations of John S. Bronk of Rochester as a manager of the Rochester State Hospital and of Penelope B. Lee of Brooklyn as a manager of the Long Island State Hospital.

The Assembly passed the bill of Assemblyman Carver taking from the New York City Board of Aldermen supervisory power over the Municipal Explosives Commission of New York and permitting the commission to fix fees for permits and certificates of approval and fitness upon the approval of the Fire Commissioner.

DR. SHAW CALLS ROOT ILLOGICAL IDEALIST

Senator's Views on Suffrage Assorted to Lack Practical Common Sense.

Senator Root's statement that the vote would be a loss to women and an injury to the State has made a stir among local suffragists.

"Mr. Root is a sentimental idealist without one touch of practical common sense," said President Anna Howard Shaw at the national headquarters. "He is like a good many men when they talk about women—they begin with the stars and work upward, leaving all logic behind."

"If the duty of protection rests with the male, as Senator Root says, then man has made an egregious failure of his duty and abrogated his right. It is simply a question of whether women are to endure their sufferings or try to protect themselves. If women already rule the world, as he says, how can they be harmed by the outward and visible sign of the ballot?"

"It is true that they are unfamiliar with it, but they can gain skill by using it. If women as individuals are superior to individual men, as the Senator admits, cannot we have their collective influence could be bad for the State?"

"If Senator Root thinks it the divine right of the male to protect the female, I should like to ask him when he is ready to do his armor and sally forth to do battle with the dragon of white slavery," said Mrs. Harriot Stanton Black, president of the Women's Political Union.

Mrs. J. B. Butterworth was even more emphatic. "I shall have to know when Mr. Root had his last interview with the Almighty before I credit what he says about divine rights," she said.

"Mr. Root ought to circulate a petition among the million and a half women who can vote, and see if he can get a hundred of them to say that they have lost anything by the ballot," said Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw. "It is true some of these people furnished a little proof with the statements they are so fond of making about suffrage. How does the home struggle along under woman's influence if it would be so detrimental to politics?"

DEPEW IN CEMETERY PROJECTS.

Partnership Suit Alleges That Big Profits Accrued to Ex-Senator.

An action for an accounting of an alleged partnership in a cemetery promotion scheme came before Supreme Court Justice Lehman yesterday in which Francis E. Baker claims a half interest in the projects of Reese Carpenter, comptroller and director of the Kensico Cemetery Company.

Baker alleges that he and Carpenter went into partnership in 1907 to buy up land adjacent to several leading Eastern cities and to lay out cemeteries where practicable, and if not to sell the land for building purposes. It is alleged that about $4,000,000 figured in the project and that the use of ex-Senator Depew's name accelerated the sale of stock.

Baker alleges that he was to do most of the promotion work for the partnership and that under the agreement he was to share equally in all sums received by Carpenter. Depew, ex-Senator, William H. Lyon, president of the Kensico corporation, and certain members of the defendant's family.

The plaintiff alleges that Carpenter told him that Depew and the others named had made profits of $500,000 in the original cemetery corporations and their profits in the new corporations should aggregate $3,000,000. The defense contends that there was no such agreement as the one stated and that even if one existed it was of the nature of "an unlawful agreement." For this reason counsel asked that the motion for a summary judgment be denied. The court reserved decision.

CHAMBERLIN TAKES NEW TACK.

Grand Trunk Official Withdraws His Plea for a Commission.

John D. Lindsay, attorney for President Edison J. Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk, withdrew yesterday his demand for a commission to go to London and take testimony for use in the trial of his client. Mr. Chamberlin, Charles S. Mellen, president of the New Haven road, and Alfred W. Smith, chairman of the board of directors of the Grand Trunk, were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury for conspiracy in violation of the Sherman law.

Mr. Lindsay's action took the Government by surprise. Judge Mayer had already authorized a commission.

In his application for a commission Mr. Lindsay argued that testimony taken in London would show that the discounting of work on the Grand Trunk's New England branches was due to lack of money and not to an agreement between Chamberlin and Mellen, as charged in the indictment.

SEELEY ADMITS $5,441 DEBT.

Barnum's Grandson Confesses Judgment in Favor of Architect.

Herbert Barnum Seeley, who inherited one-ninth of the $1,000,000 estate of his grandfather, J. T. Barnum, and used part of the money in giving the "Seeley" dinner, raised at Sherry's about fifteen years ago, signed a confession of judgment for $5,441 in the Superior Court yesterday in favor of Bancroft Smith, an architect.

Seeley got through with his grandfather's money long ago and in recent years has been a steady drinker and promoter of cirrhosis. His former wife is now Mrs. Arnold Lawson of Boston.

Macy's

Every Other Person Needs Glasses

This distress of eye-strain is nothing, however, to the distress of being improperly treated and fitted.

The methods of our Optical Department are thoroughly modern.

In the privacy of an examination room, registered Optometrists determine the condition of the eyes by the most elaborate processes.

If you suffer from temporary eye-strain glasses will be prescribed to bring them to normal condition.

If your eyes are diseased, as is rarely the case, you will be advised to consult a medical specialist.

If your eyes are normal, and you do not require glasses, we gladly tell you so.

When we say our prices are lowest-in-the-city we are striking a comparison with other reliable optical shops which give service equal to ours and which also can be depended on to turn out glasses absolutely true to prescription.

On normal lenses your saving by buying at Macy's is 12% to 20%.

Imagine then, what you save on a complicated prescription, which is often used as justification for an exorbitant price.

MAYOR SAYS BRIBE WAS ASKED.
Trial of Alderman Curran's Libel Suit Set for March 17.

At the same time yesterday that Alderman Henry H. Curran's libel suit for $100,000 against Mayor Gaylor in connection with the Mayor's letter concerning the sale of newspaper privileges was called for trial before Justice Ford the attorney for Alderman Curran was asking Justice Lehman to compel the Mayor to furnish a bill of particulars in the charge in his answer that a bribe was solicited by Curran.

Mayor Gaylor's attorney, Stephen C. Baldwin, went to court with the particulars all ready, and when he filed the motion was withdrawn.

The Mayor alleges that the bribe was solicited for licensing a newstand at Twenty-eighth street and Sixth avenue, and that the application for Mr. Curran's consent was made at City Hall in April or May, 1912, by Morris Sobel in behalf of Peter Mpetakis.

By consent of the attorneys the suit was put on Justice Guy's calendar for March 17.

SPARKS FROM THE TELEGRAPH.
Likenesses of Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson will appear on the new small sized bank notes which go into circulation on February 1 next. Washington will be on the $1 bill, Jefferson on the two's and Lincoln on $5 notes.

The Navy Department has decided to sell the wooden frigate Nipsic, built at Washington in 1872. A Seattle man has bid $7,375 and will probably get her.

Rose Spigard killed her husband, Sven, in Lynn, Mass., yesterday when she could not persuade him to stay with her longer.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has declined an invitation to attend a luncheon in Boston on March 17. A committee of the South Boston Business Men's Association tried to get him.

A snowstorm that lasted all day visited Petersburg, Va., yesterday while word came in from the country near by of fruit trees budding.

Aviator Harry M. Jones, who is carrying a parcel post mailbox from Boston to New York, went from New London to New Haven yesterday. He expects to arrive in New York not later than Thursday.
